

Project Khmer H.O.P.E.(PKH) was set up by St Andrew’s Cathedral, Singapore in 2000 to share God’s love with poor and needy Cambodians by meeting their social and economic needs. PKH is an international non-governmental organisation registered in Cambodia, working in collaboration with the Cambodian Ministry of Social Affairs, Veterans and Youth Rehabilitation. It operates from 3 PKH (Anglican) Centres and an English School in the Province of Kampong Speu.

PKH’S SCOPE OF WORKS

PKH works to give the poor a chance to break out of the poverty cycle. These services, aimed at transforming the lives of Cambodian children and youth, are provided free of charge:

- Residential Vocational Skills Training for poor youths (17 to 23 years old)
- Education and before-after school care for poor village children (6 to 15 years old)
- Childcare for orphans and disadvantaged children including street kids (6 to 18 years old)
- English Tuition for poor children from an orphanage and the community (6 to 18 years old)

VOCATIONAL TRAINING FOR POOR YOUTHS

Many Cambodian youths drop out of school because of poverty. They usually live at subsistence levels by working in the fields; quite a few of them have been driven to delinquency and drugs.

PKH works at transforming the lives of poor young men and women between the ages of 17 to 23 years. This is done by equipping them with vocational skills. Trainees are provided with lodging, food and vocational training at the PKH Centres, free of charge.

Hospitality Skills

Tourism has been on the increase in Cambodia and PKH has chosen to give such youths a hope and future, by equipping them with skills to work in the hotel cum tourism industry. The 2-year programme comprises an intensive course in the first year to enable the youths to read, write and speak English, as well as to use the computer.

A team of expatriate trainers conducts the training. This is followed by a 3-month industry attachment in the hotels.

In recent years, all of these youths have gained employment in the tourist hubs of Phnom Penh, Siem Reap and Sihanoukville. They work in the departments of Food and Beverage, Housekeeping and the Front Office of the hotels.

Industrial Skills

The Industrial Skills Course is for 1 year and it equips young men with the technical know-how for construction works and building maintenance. The skills taught include basic carpentry, brick-laying, plumbing, welding, electrical works, and the installation and maintenance of air-conditioners. They enable men to seek employment in the maintenance departments of hotels, construction and engineering firms.

With jobs, these young people are able to support themselves and also provide for their families in the provinces. They have a chance to break out of the poverty cycle.

Pastoral Guidance for Youths

As part of the overall development of the youths at the PKH Centre, recreational activities and Christian pastoral guidance are also offered during the weekends. These activities and sessions are organised by the Living Streams Youth Club. The Club aims at improving the social fabric of the community by building the lives and character of youths. There are youths who have come to personal faith in Jesus Christ; they have had their lives transformed by the power of God’s love.

CHILDCARE FOR ORPHANS AND DISADVANTAGED CHILDREN

Seeds of Hope Childcare is PKH’s joint effort with another organisation, Full Gospel Assembly Cambodia (FGAC) to care for 90 poor and needy children from 6 to 18 years of age. Since 2001, PKH annually supports a third of these disadvantaged children. The children are provided with a safe home at the FGAC Centre / Orphanage and with primary and secondary education at the nearby Hope School. Over the years, many of these children have grown up well, with a significant number of them pursuing higher education in the universities in Phnom Penh.

EDUCATION FOR POOR VILLAGE CHILDREN

Aoral is a place with one of the lowest literacy rates in Cambodia. Many children do not go to school as their parents cannot afford the cost of education. Furthermore, the schools in this remote district lack trained teachers and educational facilities. PKH works to ‘reach the unreached’ by bringing literacy to the minority communities of the tribal Suoy people living in Tropeng Chou Commune.

ENGLISH TUITION

Lessons are conducted daily for 100 students at the PKH English School; they are taught to speak, read and write English. A good command of English affords these young people greater opportunity for further academic and vocational training, as well as an advantage in applying for jobs.

COMMUNITY HELP

Welfare aid in the form of rations or rice, oil, blankets, soap, mosquito nets, clothing and medicines are distributed to poor villagers suffering the effects of droughts and floods. PKH also brings aid to communities by embarking on small scale projects to provide wells and solar-powered lighting. Basic healthcare is provided to the students at PKH and the Community around PKH.

The Honour of Serving the Poor and Needy for 20 years and more

PKH will soon complete two decades of service to the poor in Cambodia and looks forward to the privilege of carrying on this work as a tangible expression of God's love.

PKH gives thanks:

For poor children and youths whose lives have been transformed.
They were given education and vocational skills, material help and guidance in life.
They have received opportunity for a good future.

For young people who have learnt Christian values of love and life, and who have grown up well to become responsible for themselves and their families, to be kind to others and to be good citizens of Cambodia.

For the very poor in rural and remote areas who now have clean drinking water and whose children have been saved out of malnutrition, sickness and illiteracy.
They have been reached with hope; they can see a better day ahead.

For very kind people, Cambodian nationals and expatriates who serve tirelessly at the PKH Centres to bring help and hope to the needy.

For faithful friends whose generous gifts and support lend sustainability to the work.

For the Cambodian Government with which PKH collaborates to bring economic and social help to its people.

To God
who is seated on high, who looks far down on the heavens and the earth, who raises the poor from the dust and lifts the needy from the ash heap.
(Psalm 113: 5-7)

LIFE STORIES

PKH works to bring hope and a future to young people. The updated "Life Stories", found at pkhcambodia.org/life-stories, contains some of the stories of young people whose lives have been transformed; they have come out of poverty, including that of their souls.
